INNOVATIVE EDUCATION IN THE FIELD OF INTERGENERATIONAL
COOPERATION SUPPORT

PROJECT N°: 2017-1-CZ01-KA204-035501

IN THIS ISSUE

SAILING TOWARDS THE FINAL PART

The IEICS project is approaching its final part, headed towards our main goal: developing an innovative educational programme in the field of intergenerational cooperation, supported by a set of study materials, syllabus and the online Activity register.

The partners of the five contributing countries have already developed a first draft of the educational programme for a 5-day training, accompanied with a specially designed set of worksheets and the Activity Register.

In order to test the developed course, three representatives of each partner organisation have attended a 5-day training in Prague (TtT). The content of the training was the new educational programme, the developed methodology, the Activity register and other necessary materials. The three future trainers have thus been equipped with necessary skills to implement the developed programme in local environments of the partner countries, which is going to take place in form of a pilot testing.

In every country, 15-20 volunteers will take part in the pilot testing. It will take one day (in every country), most of them being scheduled in April or May.

On March 19th and 20th, the third project meeting took place in Slovenj Gradec, Slovenia. The project partners had the opportunity to discuss the next and final steps of the project: the final work on the activity register, the pilot testing of our training course in Cham, Lublin, Paris, Prague and Slovenj Gradec as well as our final conference in Prague.

The activity register is taking shape and is being translated into all languages of the participating partners. The partners also exchanged feedback from the trainers participating at the seminar in Prague. The participants were very positive about the seminar and engaged throughout. They received valuable information and tips on how to work with intergenerational groups and also how to transfer this knowledge to the volunteers at the pilot testing in their countries.

Final Conference and Local Workshops

The final conference of the project is going to take place on June 3rd in Prague. It will host participants from different target groups and different countries who will then be invited to disseminate and use the new educational program in their countries.

The aim of the conference will be to introduce the project with its intellectual outputs. There will also be a presentation of best practices concerning intergenerational cooperation from each of the participating countries. Furthermore, the conference will host keynote speakers, present the activity register and feature a panel discussion.

Following the final conference, there will also be a multiplier event organized in each of the five participating countries. The event will be held in form of a local workshop, which will actively involve target groups and other possible stakeholders, who would like to support the cooperation among different generations. The aim will be to present and disseminate the developed intellectual output.

The main outputs and other materials and documents are available on our website.
